Miles' Union Division Has Option on 19-Acre Tract Along Rock Road

A petition for rezoning and annexation of a 19-acre tract at the end of Rock road, under option by Union Division of Miles Laboratories for possible construction of new offices, a research center and a pilot plant, was presented to the Granite City council Monday night and was referred to the City Plan Commission.

The triangle-shaped tract is bounded by Rock road, new Federal Aid Route 151 and the west property lines of the junior high school, Bethel Church on West 25th street and the new West Granite park.

Business zoning is sought for the 19 acres. A portion of it presently within the city limits is zoned residential. The petitioners are August, Alma, Doris and Elizabeth Beckman; Hill, Bessie; Wilbert and Raymond Wachter and A. Ralph Morris II of Morris Realty Co.

A spokesman for the Union Division of Miles Laboratories (formerly Union Starck & Reining Co.) said that with the local plant being the largest manufacturing unit in the firm as well as the headquarters for the Union Division, the need for added office space is urgent.

Temporarily, the company plans to lease the ground floor of the Labor Temple, 2014 State street, that was vacated last weekend by the Granite City school district. The Union Division's international office staff recently moved into the former quarters of Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. in the Granite City Trust & Savings Bank building, 1800 Edison avenue.

The Union Division spokesman said plans for the new offices, laboratories and pilot plant are only in the initial stages and await action on the requests for rezoning and annexation. The City Plan Commission is to meet Feb. 14.

Since the purchase of the Union Starck plant by Miles Laboratories, the office staff at the Columbus, Ind., has been moved here, and the Miles corn sales force has relocated here from Elkhart, Ind., the Miles headquarters.

In other rezoning action Monday night, the council sent to the Plan Commission a request by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Busch off for an R-5 multiple-family unit classification for four lots at 1004 Pontoon road, near North street. The lots presently are zoned R-1 for single-family dwellings.

Propose 2 Local Schools as State Visiting Centers

An application is being submitted this week by the Granite City school district for designation of Parkview and Maryville grade schools as demonstration centers for the biennial in the Illinois Plan of Program Development for Gifted Children.

Proposed for intermediate level pupils at Maryville school is a political science program for high academic achievers to assist in clarifying their values for potential leadership.

For a Parkview intermediate class of intellectually higher underachievers, individualized instruction and counseling are planned along with small group work to overcome psychological and mental obstacles to learning.

Also at Parkview, a demonstration center is planned on acceleration of high achievers through the ungraded instruction plan.

If approved, the state will provide tax funds for a director and secretary and other costs related to the demonstration, which teachers and administrators from other areas are permitted to visit.

The programs already are being carried out and have been attracting many visitors.

Selection would be further recognition of the quality of local teaching, the school board has advised.

Announcements are carried out not only to aid the participating schools but are then utilized in other schools which justified by evidence of their effectiveness.

Levee District Cost Up $409,000

Income also Increased During 1968; Payroll Payments $530,058

Expenses of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District amounted to $5,344,202 during the 1968 year an increase of $409,000 over those of the previous year, according to the district's annual report which highly inflated both income and expense figures under a revised system of bookkeeping initiated two years ago.

The district's annual report for 1968 is published in today's issue of the Press-Record.

Total income for the district's 1968 fiscal year amounted to $5,780,718, up $1,047,802 over the 1967 receipts of $4,732,916. The district's fiscal year is the same as the calendar year, Jan. 1 through Dec. 31.

Both the income and the disbursement figures are highly inflated because of the district's bookkeeping system of transferring funds from one account to another resulting in duplications in both income and expense items.

Added Accounts

At the beginning of the 1967 year the district created two additional bookkeeping accounts known as the clearing account and the payroll account. These are in addition to the general fund account. In previous years, all income went into the general fund from which payments were made for the payroll, claims and bond principal and interest.

Under the new system, the district placed $478,456 in the clearing account during 1968 compared to $91,698 in 1967.

General fund receipts are listed at $3,810,904 for 1968, compared to $1,844,015 for the previous year. Receipts for the payroll account were credited as $23,123, down slightly from $28,667 in 1967. Total payroll cost for the year was $530,058, down from $552,047 in 1967.

The report lists cash balances totaling $1,244,151 at the beginning of the 1968 year on Jan. 1, which with total receipts of $5,780,718 gave the district total available funds of $7,024,870 throughout the year.

Balances on hand in all accounts at the end of the fiscal year Dec. 31 totaled $1,480,668.

Local Tax Payments

Among receipts that went into the $3,810,904 general fund during the year were distribution of 1967 taxes from Granite City township by Treasurer E. R. "Pat" Rice in the amount of $69,213, 1968 and 1967 taxes

Koerper asked for probation, and a probation hearing is to be held March 31 at Alton following a pre-sentence investigation.

He told the Press-Record he plans make restitution of the $4000. Koerper is free on his own recognizance.

Harold Karandjef, bank president, said that neither the bank nor the customers would lose as the bank is insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

Koerper was arrested by federal authorities following an audit of accounts and was dismissed from his position last Dec. 16. He had been with the bank since 1959.

In the banking business for 20 years, he previously was with the Cass and Jefferson National Bank, St. Louis.

Karandjef noted that federal bank examiners audit bank accounts three times every year, but that Koerper had not undergone a surprise audit once a year at any time of the year.

Karandjef declined further comment.

Koerper was elected president of the Southwestern Illinois chapter of the Bank Administration Institute last May 8. He also has served as president of the Granite City Rotary Hospital, St. Louis.

Koerper is a member of the board of directors of the United Fund of the Tri-Cities, chairman of the membership committee of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce and president of the lay advisory board of St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church. He also participated in the recent drive for expansion of St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

He resides with his wife and two children at 89 Riviera drive.

Steady Rainfall Causes Flood, Sewage Problems

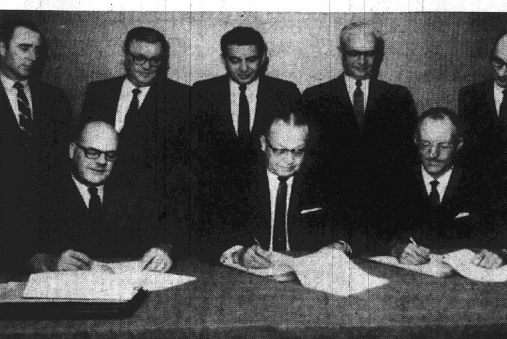

Steady rains this week, aggravated by the runoff of Sunday's two-inch snow, caused flooding and sewage problems in parts of Granite City and Nameoki townships.

Warm temperatures reaching into the 50's caused ground to thaw throughout the area, providing swamp-like setting at most homes.

The Quad-Cities reached its soggiest point Wednesday as 1/2 inch of precipitation was measured on the rain gauge at the Chain of Rocks canal locks for the 24-hour period ending at 8 a.m. today.

Rainfall totals 2.85 inches since 8 a.m. Monday, with .38 inch measured at 8 a.m. Tuesday and .07 inch at 8 a.m. Wednesday.

Local residents were preparing for more of the same, as the U. S. Weather Bureau at Lambert airport forecast a 40% chance of rain today, 20% on Friday and more rain on Saturday.

W. E. Schellenger Pledges Better Streets, Parking

A new north-south road paralleling the railroad tracks from Pontoon road to the downtown area and construction of an overpass to West Granite will be among early projects proposed by W. E. Schellenger, who is elected mayor of Granite City in this year's municipal election, today in a prepared statement of candidacy.

Schellenger said: "After a lifetime of activity in politics for others, I have decided to become a candidate for the office of mayor of Granite City. Naturally, anyone interested in good government has some desire to become a candidate himself. I have waited for a great number of years until I feel that I have gained the necessary experience and qualifications to seek this particular office."

"I am a candidate for mayor because I feel that our city is standing still at a time when we should be moving forward rapidly. For as you know, we are a cradle of basic industry with a great university at our front door, possessed of river, rail and major highway facilities. We have all this, but for some reason or another we have not been able to attract new major industry in a great number of years. I feel that a great degree of the stagnation is due to the constant bickering between our present mayor and some of our council members."

"When it appeared that the only choice that was to be given our citizen's, in the forthcoming election, was the two major participants in our weekly battles at the city council, when it became clear that the voice would appear on the scene, I then decided to announce my candidacy and conduct an active campaign for the office of mayor."

City's Interest First

"As the mayor of Granite City, I would work hard for the many improvements which our community deserves and needs. One of my opponents, Donald Partney, automatically votes for civic improvements which my other opponent proposes. My other opponent, Clyde Boyd, automatically votes against civic improvements introduced by our present mayor. I want to assure the citizen's of Granite City that as their next mayor I would put the interests of the community above such pettyness."

"As mayor, I would not allow the streets of East Granite to be blocked by sewer construction that could not move forward only because a personal grudge existed between my two opponents which prevented the city from obtaining a necessary easement."

"My program calls for great emphasis on improving automobile travel in our area. I believe that the city behind city lanes and our new shopping centers. I feel that better planning would have provided left turn lanes so that through traffic could be speedier and safer."

Parking Areas Needed

"I would want to provide more off street parking in the downtown area. To date our city has spent more money on parking surveys than providing a start on such parking would have cost. I feel that parking meter funds should be marked to providing the necessary parking facilities."

"I believe that we should plan a new North-South road paralleling the railroad from Pontoon road to our downtown area. I would like to hurry the construction of the connecting roads between Granite City and Highways 270 and 851. The latter project will require a railroad overpass to West Granite which isn't even in the planning stage."

"As mayor, I would fully disclose all my assets and sources of income. The reason for this is that I believe a political figure should make every effort to build up the citizen's faith in his government. With full disclosure, there would be less possibility of dishonest government."

City Wants State's Attorney To Collect Delinquent Taxes

Granite City council members decided Monday night to wait for the state's attorney's office to take steps for collection of delinquent personal property taxes rather than pay a 90% to 95% fee to a private collection firm.

The aldermen voted 4-0-1 to reject a second time a recommendation by the county board of supervisors' taxation committee to employ the State's Attorney to collect the taxes. The proposal also was rejected earlier this month.

It was noted there was a 90% collection of personal property taxes in Granite City, and Alderman Whitman in urging support of the county taxation committee recommendation stressed that the 90 of 100 taxpayers who meet their obligations "should not be forced to carry the weight for the delinquent taxpayers."

"Those who are delinquent should be forced to pay, and if they see we mean business, maybe they'll pay on time in the future. To me, this is the only way to do justice to the 90% who pay their taxes."

Council Suggestions

Several suggestions were made by other aldermen.

Nomm stated that rather than get just pennies from the delinquent tax collection, which would have to be shared with other taxing agencies, the city should call upon the state's attorney's office, with its special tax staff to do the job.

"It's one of the duties of that office. If need be, there could be a sale of the personal property and that would do the trick. You've got to remember, a certain percentage of the delinquent taxpayers have moved away."

Other aldermen pointed out that to force a sale would pose problems.

Liens Against Autos

"That's been tried," Moerlein said, "You have to prove that."

Moerlein also would require all my appointees to do this for me and I would hope that our councilmen would follow our example."

"I believe that our local police department should know that if I am elected mayor I will stand behind them. My stand on law and order is that we will have law and order in Granite City. I will not tolerate unfairness or police brutality, but I feel that an officer has the right to protect himself and the responsibility to protect our citizens. I want to be clearly understood in this matter. I mean that when an officer is called on a disturbance and the force that is required is to take the offender by the arm to a squad car, that is the only force that he should exert. However, if a person swings at the officer, or pulls a knife or gun, that officer should be permitted to use his own judgment in subduing that person. It is at this point that I would stand firmly behind that officer."

"I have other programs which I intend to publish between now and election day, but I consider these the most important. If we could just do these things, we could get Granite City moving again."

a certain item of furniture is the one that was actually taxed. The best way in other municipalities has been to put liens against the individual's automobile. That usually brings results."

"In St. Clair county, where the collection agency has been tried, there are still those who don't pay and nothing is done, and then other small property owners get scared by the notices and go to a loan shark to borrow to pay the taxes and then end up losing their property to the loan shark. We don't want that to happen."

Moerlein added:

"I've pointed out that state legislation is pending for elimination of personal property taxes with the start of a state income tax. We still need to collect the delinquent taxes, and the county board has yet to act on this recommendation," he remarked.

"Don't let 'em fool you," Nomm commented, "They might eliminate the personal property taxes at the start, but in about five years it will be reversed."

Bartosiak suggested that persons be required to show paid personal tax bill receipts upon purchase of auto stickers each year.

City to Reimburse $500 to Water Co.

A refund of $500 to East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co. was approved Monday night by Granite City council members on recommendation of City Atty. Leon Scroggins.

The $500 was on deposit to cover repairs to street excavations by the water company. It had been replaced by a $500 bond posted with the city clerk by the water company. The order requires a $500 bond by utilities cutting into city streets, and it is a blanket bond, Scroggins explained.

The water company only recently posted the bond, while the $500 deposit was made in 1955. Opposition to the reimbursement was by Aldermen Bartosiak, Nomm and Robertson.

'ARCH'—New Community Service for Quad-Cities Area

By HARRY BARNES

"When a man leaves here, he is ready to face the world as a man again. It is up to him if he ever is to return. We hope he never has that need, but if he does, he is welcome."

In these few words, Edward Speer of Maryville sums up the objectives and operational policy of a totally new Granite City community program known as ARCH.

Speer, executive director of the new program, points out that ARCH stands for Alcoholic Rehabilitation Community Home, and that the name signifies the full meaning of the program—the rehabilitation of alcoholics in a home provided as a refuge at the time of an alcoholic's most critical need.

ARCH came into being about two weeks ago through the efforts of a small group of men interested in the fight against the disease of alcoholism, and in that short span has become firmly entrenched as a program for which it already has proven a serious need.

13-Member Board

It has purchased a five-bedroom house, formerly a rooming house and idly suited to the program's needs, and has attracted community-wide support with a 13-member board of directors made up of representatives from St. Elizabeth Hospital, the Medical Association, Ministerial Association, Bar Association, the Chamber of Commerce, the United States Employment Service, labor and the Alto State hospital.

The house committee also includes a psychiatrist and an SH-SW consultant.

In those nine weeks, 12 men have lived at the home, entering in various stages of alcoholism and leaving as arrested cases convinced in their own minds that they could face the world again without taking another drink, Speer related.

"Our doors are always open," Speer explained. "It is a place to turn to for men who feel they are on their last legs and who want to do something about it. Many of them are men who have left their families, their jobs and their church because of drink."

"We hear from some of them after they leave. Others we do not. But we know that the majority of them return to their families and their work. This is the objective of ARCH."

Spearheaded Program
Speer, a construction worker who long has been interested in the fight against alcoholism and who has been active in the past in other programs, spearheaded the plan to initiate the program in Granite City. He and John Bloodworth, Granite City realtor, formed the nucleus of a small working group that developed the program details, took them to interested community agencies and recruited a representative board of directors that has made achievement of the program possible.

Through Bloodworth's efforts to find suitable quarters for the program, the board of directors contracted for the purchase of the two-story brick building at 1909 Grand avenue, once a rooming house with five bedrooms and space in the basement for adding several more rooms.

The building is an old one. The wallpaper and paint are peeling in places. There are cracks in the walls, and the wood work needs painting. But the building is sound and the work of redecorating it will give the men something to do, Speer commented.

"The men who come in here are from all trades and crafts," he said. "There are carpenters, painters, electricians and about any others we need to put the building in good shape," Speer added.

The ARCH home, which presently has a capacity of ten men who are alcoholics and have no place to go for help, Speer said. They must be willing to whip the drinking habit, because once they are granted entry to the home, there is no more drinking for the occupant. One drink, Speer explained, means dismissal.

Admission is by approval of the executive committee of the board of directors, and the one principal requirement for entry is the conviction by the committee that the applicant has a sincere desire to stop drinking.

"The house is not a flop house where drunks can come to sober up between binges," says Joe Burford, house manager of the ARCH residence. Burford, who says quite frankly that he is an arrested alcoholic, who met Speer in connection with an earlier program where Burford rid himself of the drinking habit, points out that a man admitted to residency in the home may stay as long as he feels it is necessary, as long as he continues in a sincere desire for sobriety and follows a few simple rules of conduct.

There is No Cure
Both Speer and Burford maintain that there is no such thing as a "cure" for an alcoholic. Neither, they say, is will power an important factor.

The only hope to rehabilitate an alcoholic is by arresting the drinking habit that feeds the disease of alcoholism, they point out.

"Alcoholism is an incurable disease and the only way to whip it is to never take the first drink," Burford said. He likened the disease of alcoholism to diabetes.

"The diabetic cannot eat sugar, and in the same sense the alcoholic cannot drink alcohol without ill effects," Burford said.

Speer said the major weapon in the fight against alcoholism is knowledge.

"Knowledge rather than will power plays the most important part in convincing a man he should not drink—the knowledge of what liquor already has done to him, and what it can do to him in the future if he continues to drink," Speer related.

AA Program Started
For this reason, a program of weekly sessions of Alcoholics Anonymous in the ARCH home was initiated only a week ago. Meetings are held every Thursday evening and are open to any man "who is an alcoholic." Residency in the home also is limited to men only.

Occupants of the home pay $3 per day for their room, board and medical or psychiatric consultation. If a new entrant is in such condition that he cannot work, the charge is credited against the time when he may be able to pay.

In this phase of the operation, ARCH works closely with the United States Employment Service which provides jobs for occupants of the home in a level commensurate with the man's ability to work and his qualifications. To aid the occupant in the early stages of his rehabilitation, ARCH also depends upon St. Elizabeth Hospital and its medical staff which is cooperating with the program in offering its facilities for detoxification of those admitted to the home.

Residents at the home not only contribute financially to ward their own support, but they keep the home in neat, running order. They prepare the meals, do the marketing, wash the dishes and perform all of the other household chores.

Program Self-Sustaining
Speer said the home directorship and the men who have taken the opportunity of living there "take pride in the fact that thus far we have been self-sustaining."

"We haven't asked anyone for money," he said. "We have paid our way out of the money the men have earned and paid into the fund with which we operate. We expect to make our payments on the house out of this fund."

But rehabilitation of the home itself is a different matter, Speer said. The cost of paint, lumber and hardware necessary to put the house in proper order would be more than the fund could stand.

"For that reason," he said, "we are asking for help on this project. Perhaps business and industry can give us a lift along this line as a tax write-off. I think we can handle the work with the men who come here, but the supplies are something else again."

Speer added that the home also would welcome contributions of such items as beds, bed clothing and household items that could help make the residence a more home place in which to live.

Any public or private contributions to the program may be mailed to Post Office Box 2, Granite City.

MORE ABOUT

Steady Rainfall

It rained at 4:37 a.m. Wednesday, the Illinois Power Co. reported. It caused other circuits to "trip off," but repairmen were dispatched immediately to restore service. The exact cause of the failure at the substation could not be determined as service trucks were unable to maneuver in the mud to reach the point, an IPC spokesman said.

Boats were in evidence in several parts of the Nameoki area yesterday afternoon. "At Briarcliff," enterprising youngsters operated a rowboat to aid residents in reaching their homes through as much as waist-deep water. The charge: 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for small children. Another boat was in operation on Melrose avenue.

Children were forced to walk through high water at the Nameoki school crossing Tuesday morning and Wednesday afternoon. Warfield noted that there is no drainage line there. Warfield reported that water was especially high along West Pontoon road, Nameoki drive and in the Melrose and Rode additions.

Vehicles were stalled in high water in various parts of the city, and street department crews helped push some of them out. There were reports that city trucks were used to push some autos, but Warfield denied the rumor, stating that it was against regulations.

Autos and a school bus were stalled late Wednesday afternoon in the 4700 block of Warlock avenue, and other areas of water over curb level on streets were reported at 2600 Benton street, on Fehling road, along the major shopping centers on Nameoki road.

Warfield also reported that overloaded sewers caused sewage to back up into homes in various parts of the city, especially in the Nameoki area. Major difficulties in Nameoki township are the flooding of basements and cesspools, according to Charles Hanks, township clerk. Hanks added, "He said his crew were out constantly 'to keep things moving,' and if we get any more water I don't know where we'll put it."

The drainage intake was reported at both Long lake and Horseshoe lake, Hanks added. Madison and Venice reported experienced little trouble, though some street intersections had high water at intervals.

At the same time, the Bi-State Development Agency notified the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council and eventual negotiation for authority control of existing airport facilities (including St. Louis-owned Lambert Field) "on reasonable terms."

Beaman at first proposed that the Gateway Council be notified that Bi-State would accept the role of Metropolitan Airport Authority subject to these two factors, but Board Member Charles Hamilton said he believed the agency's reference to negotiations for control of existing airport facilities "is a subsequent action whose success we cannot predetermine."

On Hamilton's suggestion, the board agreed to notify the Gateway Council of its willingness to assume the role of airport authority without attaching any contingencies, but to attach a copy of the airport committee's report and emphasize that success of the authority could be achieved only through the factors set out in the report.

Fixed Price on Lambert Reference to negotiations for existing airport facilities primarily to St. Louis-owned Lambert Field. When the Governmental Research report was released last summer, it suggested the Bi-State Agency be designated as the airport authority and that St. Louis sell the airport to the authority at a price of around $12 million, the amount which the report said the federal taxpayers actually have invested in the development.

Mayor A. J. Cervantes took exception to such a suggestion and while he did not object to the principal of coordinated airport operations by a metropolitan authority, he said that any airport authority would have to pay $150 to $200 million to buy Lambert Field from the city.

Beaman and R. E. Smyer, executive director of Bi-State, discussed particularly the fact that Bi-State has no authority to acquire or take over control of any facility of state, county, city or other government without the express consent of the unit or operating facility.

Therefore, they noted, success of any metropolitan airport authority will depend entirely upon the scope of cooperation between political bodies and the authority.

Smyer announced this morning that he had talked with officials of the St. Louis Airport Commission and of Civic Metropolitan Airport at Alton, Mo., and that he had given them early talks on future operational procedure.

Reuben Knapp, Bi-State board chairman, pointed out that several methods of operation of existing facilities other than purchase are open to exploration and that the potentialities can be determined only by future discussions.

Beaman noted during the board discussion that the Bi-State Agency has full legal authority to conduct airport operations in the Illinois-Missouri area under its original Bi-State agreement establishing the agency to handle transportation operations.

Special guests at the contracting dinner were Mayors Partney and Maers, State Rep. Leland Kennedy; Carl Mathias, area manager for Illinois Power Co.; E. B. Wilson, president of Illinois Terminal Railroad, and William J. Resestaris, ITR traffic manager, and L. R. Salem, supervisor of yard operations. C. E. Townsend, editor-publisher of the Press-Record, and William Boyne, general manager of the Metro-East Journal, also were present.

Port board members present were Fletcher, William Harris, Walter Simmons, H. D. Karandeff, John Bellico, Harold Hillmer, Port Manager Rant and Port District Atty. Randall Robertson.

5 From Area to Lose State Highway Jobs
Five Quad-City men are among 11 labor maintenance employees at the Illinois Division of Highways District 8 headquarters at French Village whose jobs will be abolished tomorrow under an economy move by Public Works and Buildings Director William Celini, it was reported today.

The state director's action will eliminate entirely the labor maintenance classification at the District 8 headquarters, according to Dale Kloeber, maintenance superintendent. A total of 200 such patronage jobs is being eliminated throughout the state, an action that Celini said would save the state $13 million in salaries annually.

Those who will be removed from the payroll, Kloeber said, include: Rudolph Spragler, Granite City; Richard Krause, Venice; and Lawrence Sorenson, George Meredith and William Jenkins of Madison. District 8 maintenance division has a total of 385 employees, Kloeber said.

State highway officials also announced a program to eliminate the third man of all state highway maintenance crews. District 8 has 84 such employees whose salaries are about $7000 per year. Each three-man crew is responsible for a 21-mile section of highway.

Bi-State to Serve as Airport Authority

The Bi-State Development Agency notified the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council and eventual negotiation for authority control of existing airport facilities (including St. Louis-owned Lambert Field) "on reasonable terms."

Beaman at first proposed that the Gateway Council be notified that Bi-State would accept the role of Metropolitan Airport Authority subject to these two factors, but Board Member Charles Hamilton said he believed the agency's reference to negotiations for control of existing airport facilities "is a subsequent action whose success we cannot predetermine."

On Hamilton's suggestion, the board agreed to notify the Gateway Council of its willingness to assume the role of airport authority without attaching any contingencies, but to attach a copy of the airport committee's report and emphasize that success of the authority could be achieved only through the factors set out in the report.

Fixed Price on Lambert Reference to negotiations for existing airport facilities primarily to St. Louis-owned Lambert Field. When the Governmental Research report was released last summer, it suggested the Bi-State Agency be designated as the airport authority and that St. Louis sell the airport to the authority at a price of around $12 million, the amount which the report said the federal taxpayers actually have invested in the development.

Mayor A. J. Cervantes took exception to such a suggestion and while he did not object to the principal of coordinated airport operations by a metropolitan authority, he said that any airport authority would have to pay $150 to $200 million to buy Lambert Field from the city.

Beaman and R. E. Smyer, executive director of Bi-State, discussed particularly the fact that Bi-State has no authority to acquire or take over control of any facility of state, county, city or other government without the express consent of the unit or operating facility.

Therefore, they noted, success of any metropolitan airport authority will depend entirely upon the scope of cooperation between political bodies and the authority.

Smyer announced this morning that he had talked with officials of the St. Louis Airport Commission and of Civic Metropolitan Airport at Alton, Mo., and that he had given them early talks on future operational procedure.

Reuben Knapp, Bi-State board chairman, pointed out that several methods of operation of existing facilities other than purchase are open to exploration and that the potentialities can be determined only by future discussions.

Beaman noted during the board discussion that the Bi-State Agency has full legal authority to conduct airport operations in the Illinois-Missouri area under its original Bi-State agreement establishing the agency to handle transportation operations.

Special guests at the contracting dinner were Mayors Partney and Maers, State Rep. Leland Kennedy; Carl Mathias, area manager for Illinois Power Co.; E. B. Wilson, president of Illinois Terminal Railroad, and William J. Resestaris, ITR traffic manager, and L. R. Salem, supervisor of yard operations. C. E. Townsend, editor-publisher of the Press-Record, and William Boyne, general manager of the Metro-East Journal, also were present.

Port board members present were Fletcher, William Harris, Walter Simmons, H. D. Karandeff, John Bellico, Harold Hillmer, Port Manager Rant and Port District Atty. Randall Robertson.

With the first major expansion in the Tri-City Regional Port District's facilities in several years, the Port and Bulk Service Corp. hope to attract sufficient additional bulk cargo to the Port to necessitate, very soon, the construction of additional warehousing," Fischer Brown said.

Brown said his firm, while a small operation at present, is growing with its policy of "fair prices and good service. We're enthusiastic over the potential for this area and while we are a family-owned company, we plan to give close attention to the operation here."

16 Months in Making
He pointed out that last night's meeting resulted from 16 months of negotiations. Fischer added, "This meeting is actually a celebration for this community for the expansion of the harbor and bright prospects for future expansion."

Orientation on Benefits Of VA Given in Vietnam

Veterans Administration contact representatives this month began the third year of brief- ing American GIs in Vietnam on their veteran benefits.

Since the first VA representa- tives reported to the U. S. Army base at Long Binh in January 1967 to begin giving Army troops unprecedented battlefield orientation on benefits that would be available to them as veterans, more than 567,000 American servicemen in Viet- nam have been briefed.

Nearly 64,000 GIs have re- ceived in-depth personal interviews on such veteran programs as education and training, home loans, hospital and medical care, and compensation and pension benefits.

In the past two years, 33 VA contact representatives, includ- ing 10 now at seven military bases, have served tours in Vietnam.

During the first month of VA's battlefield operation, rep- resentatives reached only a few hundred GIs. An average of 40,000 servicemen in Vietnam are now being briefed each month.

FLEISHMAN'S

The Corner — Nineteenth and Delmar Ave.

BONNIE FULLER—a senior in education finds time to work in the Clerical Center of SIU-SW's Education Division. On the wall is one of several of her paintings, now exhibited there.

GC Grandmother Enjoying Full-time Studies at SIU-SW

Bonnie Fuller doesn't fit any of the stereotyped molds of a college student.

First of all, she's a grand- mother, who went back to school—full time—nearly four years ago.

Second, she's majoring in English at the SIU-SW campus and plans to teach—even though she's already become well known in the Granite City area as an artist.

Third, because of her interest in philosophy and probably more simply put, her interest in people, she's often seen having lunch with what generally is referred to as "hippies."

But once one gets to know Bonnie Fuller it all fits into a pattern.

"I don't guess I would have started to college sooner, if I had it to do over again. When I was interested in coming, I came. Before the last few years I had a family to care for and found time to do quite a bit of painting, so my timing for entering school was based accordingly," she commented.

Taught Art at "Y"

For several years she taught art at the Granite City "Y" and still enjoys painting. But for her, teaching art all day would be a bore, according to Mrs. Fuller, "drain her creativity."

"I guess painting and writing are my two great passions. To me it seems apparent that if one can paint or write, you know it."

"I've developed some strict powers of concentration, so I can paint or write almost at any time."

Mrs. Fuller likes to use oil as the medium and enjoys painting people. She does however have one reservation, "I don't really enjoy painting pretty people. For when one paints, one should be able to define character and personality into the work . . . and pretty people are hard to please."

"One year I did over 100

paintings and then another year I spent eight months on a lot of canvases, so it depends on a lot of variables how much time I devote to one painting.

"I've never become sentimental about what I do," re- marked the soft-spoken Mrs. Fuller.

Author and Poet

Switching to her second pas- sion of writing, Mrs. Fuller points out that after starting on an article or story, the writer soon finds the story writing it- self.

She enjoys poetry, as well as the short story, and usually writes about man and his ex- istence in the matters of birth, death or love.

In comparing the two art forms, painting and writing, she added, "To me reason becomes more of a serious concern in writing than in painting."

She also had some comments on today's emphasis on sex in books, movies and television.

"These writers are underes- timating people. They should appeal to our sensitivity, in- stead of tearing it apart. An artist will evoke a feeling, not give us a sordid description of something that can not truly be described."

Carpenter Training Aided by U. S. Govt.

To ease a shortage of skilled carpenters in the home building industry, 1160 unemployed and underemployed men will be trained on the job by contrac- tors in 21 states, including Illi- nois. It was announced this week by Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz.

The National Association of Home Builders has signed an $850,000 national on-the-job training contract with the U. S. Department of Labor under the Manpower Development and Training Act. Home Builders in Illinois will receive $104,600 to train 15 apprentice entry car- penters and 105 pre-apprentice carpenters.

On-the-job training is given by private industry with federal reimbursement for instructor fees and instructional materials. Trainees receive wages paid by employers during on-the-job training.

Summer Boys' Baseball Loops Being Organized

That is the deadline for releasing a boy from a team.

After that date, a release requires a written reason from the manager or parents, approved by the Rules and Pro-Test committee.

Five Age Divisions
The baseball program has age divisions consisting of Atoms (7-9), Bantam (10-11), Midget (12-13), Juvenile (14-15) and Junior (16-17).

Any player not already on a team is interested in participating this summer is asked to call the park office, 877-3059, to get a list from which managers will draw.

"The managers take the boys in the order that the names are called in, so the sooner the call is made the better chance that a boy has of getting on a team," it was explained.

Salvation Army's Need for New Building is Stressed

"Granite City is now the only Illinois area Salvation Army community operating in an outdated and over-crowded facility," Salvation Army Major George Scofield, divisional secretary from St. Louis, told members of the local SA advisory board at its monthly meeting Monday noon.

Major Scofield spoke of the interest by divisional headquarters in seeing new facilities in Granite City, pointing out—"the community should not have to be sold on the need, the present property at 19th street and Grand avenue speaks for itself."

The official mentioned the newly-dedicated Salvation Army building in Alton and a relatively new facility in East St. Louis. He said the territorial property secretary, corporate officer from Chicago, will be in the Quad-Cities within a month to inspect property in the local area.

A. C. Stoeve, advisory board property chairman, presented an up-to-date progress report and said that plans are being finalized for a capital campaign with a date to launch the appeal to be announced after further study.

Capt. Harold F. Thomas, local SA commanding officer, reported that final tabulation of the annual "Tree of Lights" drive, showed a total of $7233 was expended through the program. Additional contributions since an earlier report increased the overall income to $6765, leaving a deficit of $467 for the Christmas welfare project.

The original deficit of $723 was reduced through late contributions received from the Knights of Columbus, Tri-Cities Council 1086, Granite City Junior Service Club; Minerva

Women's Club; the Twilight Optimist Club and an additional donation from G. H. Sternberg. The local SA commander expressed appreciation to Edwin Reiske, 1969 Tree of Lights chairman; Richard West, first vice; committee chairman; and Albert Ward, welfare chairman. The latter was cited for working with those financially distressed due to recent strikes and lay-offs at local plants.

Total expenditures during November and December by the local Salvation Army amounted to $14,543, with income for the same period reported as $14,075.

The service report showed 144 activities, attended by 3171 persons, including 26 worship services, 83 youth and character building programs and seven group activities for senior citizens.

Welfare assistance was provided 173 individuals, including 46 cases material assistance, 42 welfare orders, 11 individual meals provided and one night's accommodation. Christmas material assistance was furnished to 208 individuals, 528 more than the previous year. The total number of families assisted by the Salvation Army numbered 638.

Capt. Thomas said that Christmas interviews at the SA welfare office totaled 538, an increase of 150 over 1967, plus 79 interviews conducted for other assistance.

The League of Mercy made 14 institutional visits with 82 members participating in calls to 679 individuals. A total of 179 hours was spent in visitation and 1560 volunteer hours given within the two month period, he explained.

West conducted the business session, held in the Grand Cafe.

Mrs. Buckner was born in Piedmont, Mo., and had resided here 45 years. She was a member of the First Baptist Church. Surviving are her husband, William Buckner, one son, William Buckner Jr., of Granite City; her mother, Mrs. Laura Beaty of St. Louis; two brothers, Rufus Benjamin Beaty and William Woodson Beaty, both in Piedmont; and five sisters, Mrs. Jeanette Beatley and Miss Bernice Beaty, both of St. Louis; Miss Bertha Beaty of Albany, Ga.; Mrs. Dorothy Henry and Mrs. Jewell Long, both of Los Angeles, Calif.

Funeral services were held at 1 p.m. today. Details are given in the obituary column.

VA Says New GI Home Loan Rate Now 7 1/2 %

An increase in the maximum GI home loan interest rate to 7 1/2 per cent was announced today by the Veterans Administration.

Administrator of Veterans Affairs William D. Draper authorized the increase, following consultation with the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, in an effort "to insure the availability of new and existing housing for the nearly 25,000 veterans applying each month for GI loans."

Under the ungraded approach, progress is made through attaining specified achievement levels in various subjects. Progress varies by Subjects. A pupil adept in mathematics, average in history and encountering difficulty in geography may spend part of the day with his own class and teacher and other parts with other teachers, avoiding "marking time" or lapses in continuity.

The ungraded approach is regarded as a step toward eventual individualization of instruction, through combining the use of teachers, learning machines and computers.

Although there was a delay in receipt of state guidelines, intensive efforts were made here to meet a Jan. 31 deadline on submission of applications. The state considers financing of a demonstration center director and secretary to be an appropriate investment because curriculum preparation for demonstration purposes requires time beyond that normally available to instructors, principals and gifted program administrators.

Surprised and pleased to get the Annapolis appointment, the local youth will forego attending the University of Illinois where he already has been accepted as a freshman student, starting this fall. He hopes to combine a Navy career with the study of aeronautical engineering at the Academy, he said.

Seek Cat That Bit Man To Permit Rabies Test

A search for a cat that scratched or bit Lloyd Edwards, a post office employee, 2525 East 24th street, in his home late last week, was under way in Edwards' neighborhood today to permit tests to determine whether or not Edwards would be required to take a long series of painful rabies shots.

Edwards said he found the cat in the basement of his home and that he picked it up to put it out the back door when the Edwards' dog barked and jumped at it. The cat bit or scratched Edwards a several times in the left hand. Edwards said he did not know how the cat got into his house.

DeMolay Chapter Renamed to Honor Veteran Advisor

The title of the local DeMolay unit has been changed to the James Stuart chapter, Order of DeMolay, in honor of its late veteran advisor. It was announced today.

Authorization was received from the order's international supreme council through G. Wilbur Bell, executive officer for Southern Illinois, after local members voted unanimously in December for the change. It was approved by Granite City chapter 221, Royal Arch Masons, which sponsors the youth group.

Stuart, who came to be called "Uncle Jimmy" by members, served as an advisor for 35 years, serving from 1933 until his death on Oct. 3, 1968. It was estimated that through the years 3500 youths came under his direct influence.

Among honors achieved by Stuart were "Advisor of the Year in Southern Illinois" for 1961, a member of the "Guild of the Leather Apron," the Chevalier degree, the Legion of Honor degree, the Cross of Honor, the Advisor's honor key and the White Honor key. He was co-recipient of the Quad-City Civic Achievement Award for 1962.

He formerly was a science teacher at Granite City high and Coolidge junior high schools and previously was a foreman at General Steel Industries.

PREPARING FOR RETIREMENT on Monday is Edwin L. Wagner, head operator at the Chouteau Island intake plant of the East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co., with his dog "Tuffy."

After 44 Years Service

Water Co. Intake Plant Head to Retire Monday

Edwin L. Wagner, Rural Route One, head operator at the Chouteau Island intake plant of the East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co., will retire Monday after 44 years of service with the utility.

He will be honored at a party to be held by Utility Workers Union Local 405 Monday night at the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall in East St. Louis. He is a member of the local and is a trustee of the East St. Louis Union Label Council.

During his retirement he plans to improve his orchard and work in his garden, a longtime hobby. He, his wife and two daughters, Marilyn and Marianne, plan to take their seventh trip to the west this winter.

Wagner started working for the company on Nov. 13, 1923, as a filter operator. He left in 1925 to work on a ranch in the Pacific northwest, but rejoined the utility in 1927 at the newly built intake station on Chouteau Island.

After he was made head operator in 1945, he and his family moved into the island about a mile from the plant.

No Bridges, Roads
"When I first came to Chouteau Island there were no bridges across the river in that area and no hard roads crossing the island," he recalls. "There were only 13 farm houses and a country school."

"The river traffic was exciting to watch from the plant. Livestock was seen going by on long cattle barges, and in the fall packet boats of apples from Calhoun county were seen passing by. Excursion steamers were going up and down the river day and night."

"During the winter months when there was ice on the river and it was around zero, fish of all kinds which were numb from the cold would come up on our revolving screens. They were as fresh as from a mountain stream."

"As the years passed and the river became a polluted stream, the fish coming up on the screens could no longer be eaten."

"I worked through three major floods where the only way of getting back and forth was by motor boat, and at one time worked 55 hours without leaving the plant."

"Being a lover of nature, I enjoyed working by the river with its gigantic cottonwoods along the bank and birds of every description."

"The sunsets were beautiful and words cannot describe the spectacular sight of a full moon shining down on a river filled with floating ice on a cold winter night."

"The nearly 44 years I've spent with the company have been most enjoyable, with congenial co-workers and a good company to work for."

LADIES' AUXILIARY O.C.A.W.I.U. 7-663A OWES PARTNEY NO APOLOGY

On Friday, January 24, 1969, a committee of five members of O.C.A.W.I.U. Ladies Auxiliary, met with Mayor Partney in the conference room of City Hall. The meeting was held to discuss a letter printed in the Forum of the Press-Record on January 23, 1969. This letter was signed by Mrs. Ann Smith and has been copied and circulated with Mayor Partney's campaign literature. This letter is very misleading and contains insinuations and not facts. We met with Mayor Partney to discuss the facts and to inform him that we are planning to place an article in the Press-Record for rebuttal. We were advised by Mayor Partney that he was raised in West Granite, and still lives in West Granite and he believes in an "eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth." He informed us that he would retaliate by using a number of things he has in his files against us. He said this includes movies taken during the strike, which he would not hesitate to show on a public building. This came as no surprise, as we believe his past campaigns have been conducted in the same ruthless manner. We want you, Mayor Partney, to know that quite a few of our members were raised and still reside in the West Granite area and we feel there is no reason to believe that revenge is a standard rule there. People of West Granite, do you feel this way?????

How about you, Mr. Boyd?????

Mayor Partney, we want you and the good citizens of Granite City to know that we believe we have, in the past, and are now conducting our organization in such a manner that a threat of this kind cannot be detrimental to us. We do ask that you keep this between the Ladies Auxiliary and yourself. We, the Ladies Auxiliary, are taking this stand, but we feel confident that the union members feel the same. We are not afraid to face this threat head on. We would be delighted to have you as a guest speaker, at a public meeting, so you can present the terrible things you have on file against the O.C.A.W.I.U. Ladies Auxiliary.

We dislike citing our disagreements in public, but Mrs. Smith and Mayor Partney has given us no other alternative. Now that we have answered Mayor Partney's threat, we can delve into the letter signed by Mrs. Smith.

Mrs. Smith stated she was a past vice president of O.C.A.W.I.U. Ladies Auxiliary 7-663A. What Mrs. Smith so conveniently omitted in her letter to the Forum was the length of time she filled this office. Mrs. Cleveland (Ann) Smith was installed December 7, 1965, and her resignation was accepted February 8, 1966. The total length of Mrs. Smith's vice presidency was two (2) months. She is NOT a member of O.C.A.W.I.U. Ladies Auxiliary, and has not been since February 1966, when a withdrawal card was issued to her. Her husband did not return to work for Union Starch after the long seven month strike ended.

According to our records, the contributions to the Auxiliary from Mayor Partney during the strike, consisted of two checks, in the amount of $10.00 each. Mrs. Smith failed to mention the personal contribution of $50.00 by Mr. Boyd.

Mrs. Smith's comments on her lack of knowledge as to why she picked City Hall is the most humorous paragraph in her letter. Would she have us believe that any woman would get out in freezing weather and picket without knowing why? Mrs. Smith, can you tell us who arranged for the news coverage of this picketing? It sounds as if the "certain labor leaders" were leading a group of blind sheep to be slaughtered. Really now, how many women can be told to "just do it", and do it? If Mrs. Smith did, then citizens, please take Mrs. Smith's own words and try to figure who is saying "just do it" now. We feel that the women who participated in the picketing of the City Hall were very well informed as to why they were there.

Mrs. Smith made quite a point to mention violence. Many people are capable of violence, some with more reason than others. Any violence that occurred on the picket line at Union Starch was provoked by people who continued to cross the legitimate picket line of the employees. One of Mayor Partney's sons crossed and worked. Didn't our own Mayor Partney of Granite City make unfavorable publicity in the Quad-City area by becoming involved in a brawl? He had only himself to control. According to an article in another newspaper, (which we have seen and will be most happy to show Mrs. Smith) he was threatened with a trip to jail. Is it all right for one person to lose their temper but not the other? Mrs. Smith had to go back to events that happened over three years ago. Other people have memories too. Jogging of memories can sometimes be very unpleasant and not too profitable.

If Mrs. Smith's husband presently worked at the Union Division of Miles Laboratory, we're sure they would understand why most of the people are trying to forget these unpleasant memories. Our husbands seem to be quite pleased with the relationship with this new company.

The O.C.A.W.I.U. Ladies Auxiliary 7-663A, has given their endorsement to Mr. Clyde "Bus" Boyd and Mr. Nelson Hagnauer. We are offering our help in the coming elections. We do want it known that they will not "have to compensate" us in any way. Mrs. Smith, a lot of people work in elections without compensation in the form of favors and material gain. Their compensation is knowing that they did their best to give our city the opportunity to have the best men in the right positions.

There are no finer men seeking election than Mr. Boyd and Mr. Hagnauer. We feel that the fine people, and the honest people ARE the thinking people. They will think and elect a new Mayor that will work in harmony with the Aldermen to make this a better city. That man must be MR. CLYDE "BUS" BOYD.

Clean Air, City Council Harmony Boyd Objectives

Air pollution control, retirement of the Nameoki sewer bonds and construction of an overpass to West Granite City area are among the principal objectives of Third Ward Alderman Clyde Boyd in his bid for election as mayor of Granite City, subject to the Feb. 11 primary, Boyd said today.

Boyd said that an all-out effort to unify and harmony on the city council will be among his top priority projects if elected.

In a statement, Boyd said: "Since I was elected Alderman of the Third Ward six years ago, I have become increasingly concerned with the government of our city. During my term as Alderman I have endeavored to support ordinances for the betterment of the people of my ward and also all the people of our city.

"I have at all times listened with compassion to the problems of the people of my ward and of our city and have attempted with all of my energy to solve their problems.

Wants Unity on Council
"My goals if elected mayor of Granite City will include an all-out effort for unity and harmony on the city council.

"Any and all progress can only be made with the advice and consent of the city council in all progressive city matters, which are many.

"These include air pollution, an overpass to the west side, retirement of Nameoki sewer bonds, collective bargaining for all city employees and extensive downtown improvements.

"Until recently I served as Democratic precinct committeeman and as a director of the Granite City Steel Credit Union. I decided to give up these positions so that I could give the people of my ward and the city a first class performance as alderman.

"My experience as alderman has proven to me that we have great citizens, which make ours a good city. However, my experience has also shown me that we can do more for our citizens than we have done in the past.

Would 'Move Forward'
"I desire to become mayor so that we can move forward with progressive programs for the benefit of all our citizens. I feel we can become a really great city and an example to other cities in our area of what good leadership can accomplish.

"During the past 21 years I have served the members of the United Steelworkers' Union. My fellow union members and my superiors gave me the honor of advancing me from local union president to staff representative.

"I feel their faith in me has been justified by my performance and I feel I will justify the faith of the voters of Granite City by giving them the kind of leadership that will make them proud to be citizens of an even greater city. Let us make our vote on Feb. 11, 1969, so I will have the opportunity to serve you."

Delegates to the Tri-City Trades and Labor Council announced recently their unanimous endorsement of Boyd as candidate for mayor in the current city election campaign. The action followed recommendation of the Legislative Committee which interviewed all three mayoralty candidates.

In announcing the endorsement, the trades council noted that Boyd, an alderman in the Third Ward for the past six years, is a staff representative of the United Steelworkers of America representing many union members in many major industrial plants, and prior to becoming USWA representative was president of Steelworkers Local 67 at Granite City Steel Co. The Trades and Labor Council includes 30 local unions representing 20,000 members.

Anyway, when Roger, our non-foody buyer, has something that he thinks is good he sure gets excited... The other day he came in all excited about a "Carter & Lee's" Dinnerware Promotion he had purchased... So we all asked him if we should take out an extra insurance policy on our store, because in case our customers break 'em down when they come in to take advantage of the special price he's putting on the dinnerware... Madison Man in Vietnam Saves Money for Army

A costly problem has been solved by a dedicated civil servant by the name of Theodore J. Kamadulski, 1828 Second street, Madison, employed as an engineering equipment inspector at the Granite City Army Depot.

The money saving process involves the removal of brass rails, connected to the recoil mechanism of 175 mm and 8 inch Howitzer gun barrels, from their finely machined fittings on the gun tube.

This used to be a complicated and time consuming job, taking several men 40 hours or more to remove the rails. Kamadulski has developed special tools now in use to remove the gun rails. The rails are reusable and are of high monetary value. The gun rails heretofore were scrapped or removed by a lengthy procedure of acetylene burning. Each rail set cost the government $1200. One man can now remove the gun rails in about one hour. Not only do the new tools save time and money but will speed the return of the cannons back to the field, specifically Republic of Vietnam, Depot spokesman said.

The modification and development of the new method was accomplished in the Directorate for Maintenance at the Granite City Army Depot.

At the present time, Kamadulski is in the Republic of Vietnam assisting in training personnel in the use of the new gun rail remover equipment.

He originated the idea while on a previous tour of duty in Vietnam, after having observed a crew of men attempting to "burn" the rails loose from the gun barrels. On his own time, he first devised a simple but makeshift method to accomplish the job and when he returned to his home station at the Granite City Army Depot, he was directed by Gen. Frank Besson, commanding general, Army Materiel Command, Washington, D. C., to perfect his idea. Under Kamadulski's direction, personnel of the Directorate for Maintenance did indeed modify and successfully develop the new tools. The basis for the success of the tool is hydraulic power.

The process is relatively simple. Holes are drilled into the barrel and a hydraulic cylinder is sent into the holes. With the cylinder acting as a jack, it is easy to push the rail from its fitting.

After the rails are removed from the gun barrels, they are shipped to Rock Island Terminal, Ill., where they are placed on new gun tubes. The old barrels are melted down and remolded into new ones.

County Assessor Plan Proposed

Legislation creating the post of supervisor of assessments in Madison and 99 other Illinois counties was recommended in Springfield yesterday, while Illinois Speaker Ralph T. Smith (R-Alton) announced he again will back a bill in the new legislative session calling for annual inspection of motor vehicles.

Creation of the countywide assessor post was included in a series of proposals contained in a report released by the Full Value Assessment Laws and Rate Limitations Commission. The proposal would call for a supervisor of assessments in all counties of less than 50,000 population.

St. Clair county would be excluded from the "under 50,000 class" because it already has an elected board of assessors and an elected board of review. Rep. Smith, who authored auto inspection bills in the last legislative session, said the bill he is preparing would require an inspection to determine if equipment required by law is on an auto, and if any equipment prohibited by law is on the vehicle.

In 1967 bills introduced by Smith requiring annual auto inspections passed the House but failed to receive a majority in the Senate.

Jas. Stafoff, 73, Dies; Retired Coremaker

James Stafoff, 73, of 830 Niedringhaus avenue, a retired American Steel Foundries coremaker, died at 5:15 p.m. Wednesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital. He had been ill 29 days and was a patient the same length of time.

Born in Macedonia, Mr. Stafoff had resided here since 1910. He had retired in 1962 from American Steel, where he was employed 32 years. He was a member of the Bulgarian Eastern Orthodox Church of Madison.

Mr. Stafoff is survived by his wife, Mrs. Katie Stafoff; four daughters, Mrs. Victor (Mary) Enos and Mrs. Joseph (Dorothy) Meyer, both of Granite City, Mrs. Anthony (Florence) Infantino, Long Island, N.Y., and Mrs. Leo (Laurenstein) Chounard of Pasadena, Calif.; nine grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren. Funeral services are listed in today's obituary column.

Bikeway Routes for GC Proposed to Rotary Club

A proposal to establish a series of safe bicycling routes (bikeways) in Granite City was discussed by Donn Hornberger of the Illinois Youth Commission who spoke Tuesday afternoon at the Granite City Rotary Club meeting in the YMCA.

Hornberger explained that "bikeways" essentially are streets or avenues specially designated by the community as safer and more convenient bicycle routes for young and adult riders. Clearly marked and distinctive Bikeway signs guide cyclists and alert motorists to drive carefully, he said.

The guest speaker reported the Granite City Jaycees organization has agreed to incorporate professional bike races in its 1969 summer homecoming activities to promote the bike-way project, with the young men's service group also voting recently to contribute $200 toward the promotional idea.

Bikeways are systems of secondary, little trafficked roads, usually parallel to main streets, leading from and to schools, recreation areas, and points of scenic or historic interest. Routes are marked with Bikeway signs that may be seen throughout America, in large cities—Denver and Pasadena — and small towns such as Kettering, O., and Prairie du Chien, Wis., he commented.

Bikeways use existing roads and require little or no funding, the speaker said, adding that they keep youngsters busy and occupied with a healthy recreational pursuit by encouraging cycling.

Hornberger said he is seeking representatives from each service and civic group in the community to serve on a special Bikeways committee, to be formed in the near future, and asked the Rotarians to consider appointing two delegates to the steering group.

The IYC staff member was introduced by Richard West, program chairman, Warren Decatur, Rotary president, conducted the business meeting, attended by 45 members.

Which Of Our 4700 Stores Get The Best Beef?

Believe it or not, there are some people who think the quality of our beef varies from store-to-store. It's not true!

Every one of our Meat Departments offers the same high-quality beef, the only quality we sell... "SUPER-RIGHT" Quality. Our quality specifications for "SUPER-RIGHT" Beef are so high that some beef graded "Choice" just isn't good enough to be labeled "SUPER-RIGHT" This one "high quality" policy for all stores applies to all the meats we sell.

It is true, that where customer demand calls for it, you will find thicker steaks, double lamb chops, etc., but they are all cut from the same quality meat that is available in every A&P Meat Department. After all, to satisfy customer demand is just plain good business.

One other thing we want you to know. No matter where you live, if you want that thick steak, double lamb chop or any cut you don't see in the case, just ask for it. WE CARE about, and want to satisfy, every customer... and we mean every customer.

WE CARE!

Campus Being Checked For Prehistoric Sites

Ken Williams of Granite City and Ernest Evans of Cahokia, students at Southern Illinois University-Southern campus, are digging post holes on the campus looking for archeological sites.

They are checking the entire 2600-acre campus and expect to complete the survey by the end of the spring quarter. They are hopeful of finding flint chips, small pieces of pottery or other signs of previous cultures.

Potential building sites are the first areas being checked. Plans call for a volunteer excavating team to work this summer if the sites should prove worthwhile.

Bonnie and Clyde Updated in One of Bizarre Insurance Claims of 1968

(Aetna Life and Casualty Company)

Heard the one about the burling banana bandit?

He figured in one of the daffiest of the annual collection of bizarre insurance claim cases, 1968 reports show.

The young desperado approached a cashier in a San Diego grocery, inadvertently drew a ripe banana instead of his revolver, and boldly produced a stickup.

Thrown into a near panic when he discovered his mistake, the callow Clyde with the bonnie banana still managed to fumble out his real gun, and supply with $745 before the laughter died.

Here are some more of the best "weirdies" from among the millions of claims handled in 1968.

From Tucson comes another tale of ludicrous larceny. This one starred a shoplifter who bit an arm and leg of a vigilant drug store clerk in a mad grasp to freedom.

And while a Milwaukee home-owner's watchdog had the right to bite, he became so nervous after an encounter with burglars that his owner took him to a vet "to see what could be done about his state of mind."

The pooch's prescription was for tranquilizers.

A Missouri policyholder was anything but tranquil after being shaken up in an auto accident. And even 120 days after the minor mishap, he claimed that he was still too nervous to return to his job—racking up pool balls.

And a dog owner who left his car briefly with the engine running was unnerfed when his inter the rear of the car, a flimsy shirt, rolled down an Ohio street, and crashed into—what else?—a fireplug.

Flying high last year were a soured sinner and a pack of pickled pig's feet.

The revealing Rhesus monkey modest tourists at a Florida zoo after being fed whiskey by an unidentified, but obviously unidentified, but obviously unknown, heaved a jar of hog's hoofs through the windshield of a claimant's pickup truck.

Of course, the ladies played a prominent role in the "oddities of insurance."

For example, a Phoenix motorist slammed into a utility pole to avoid hitting a customer who dashed into the street. Traffic was the least of the latter's problems—he was being hotly pursued by a woman waving a revolver.

And a Coral Gables, Fla., driver plowed into a gate when he was distracted by a woman in topless attire who was chasing a small boy down the street. A policeman parked nearby admitted that he didn't see the crash.

Another accident gave a customer in Albuquerque mixed feelings about insurance protection. Driving after a fire, visiting his agent, he crashed into another car while leaning forward to pick up something which had fallen from his dashboard—a newly-acquired auto insurance policy.

Snowstorm Showed Need for Greater Granite City Street Department Manpower, Equipment

Contrasts noted by a local businessman in the condition of Madison Avenue Monday morning after the snow had and point up varying strong points in local street departments. More of the pavement was clear south of 14th street than north, he noted.

Madison Avenue, the street crewman's favorable manpower ratio of 12 street crewman for an estimated 15 to 18 miles of streets—and also benefits from willingness to meet the considerable cost of applying salt on major arteries, such as Madison Avenue. Venice thoroughfares also were in reasonably good condition Monday, thanks partly to the limited geographical area which enables the municipality to concentrate on a few key streets.

Granite City, with 25 workers for several scores of miles of streets, and only half that number available Sunday afternoon and night and early Monday due to illness and equipment factors, contented itself with concentrating on intersections and curves rather than the entire length of traffic routes. Its greater supply of workers gave it an advantage in providing traffic as well as melting at corners; this would have been even more noticeable if the temperature had dropped below ten degrees, the point where salt begins losing its ability to cause snow to melt.

All local departments appear to have responded promptly in the first of the winter snowstorms, with goals of acceptable traffic conditions set somewhat higher in Madison and Venice. Substantial Granite City manning and equipment advances seem to be the chief unmet needs, the city having failed to keep pace with the big expansion in street mileage in recent years; "we cover all the way to Sara Avenue off Pontoon road," a department member reminded the Press-Record this week.

Bargain Office and Warehouse Buildings Occupied by Granite City School System

The spacious and attractive facilities occupied this week by the Granite City school district at a cost of $250,000 are a bargain. It is a stroke of luck that the five St. Louis Lumber Co. office and warehouse buildings were available, because taxpayers undoubtedly would have balked at trying to duplicate them in 1969 construction costs.

Now an $11-million-a-year business, the community unit school system needed more room for its administrative and business functions. Parking space for the first time is adequate, and the 20 and Adams street locations are still reasonably close to the Central Granite City business area.

An even bigger advance in the acquisition of storage space totaling 31,435 square feet, complete with truck loading docks and a railroad spur. Quantity purchasing will cut costs sharply, with better sought at the same prices. Times of the year, and there should be fewer problems in keeping the 21 school buildings supplied with materials and equipment when needed.

Full Speed Ahead on SIU-SW Dental School

The final decision by St. Louis University to discontinue its dental school, a move outlined on a tentative basis last year, is more imperative that SIU-SW implement its plans to establish a school to educate and train dentists. Many of the necessary preliminaries already have been carried out, justifying affirmative General Assembly action and funding this year.

Our favorite Oriental philosopher suggests that, when one flees from temptation, he should be sure not leave a forwarding address.

Major State, Federal Action Needed to Solve Critical East St. Louis Problems

East St. Louis is the "most volatile situation" in Illinois, Lt. Gov. Simon, top-ranking Democratic official, said this week. Gov. Ogilvie, top Republican, at the same time was organizing an East St. Louis survey, including suggested remedies and job expansion programs. The almost total breakdown of public safety and public confidence is of more than passing interest to local residents because of the proximity to East St. Louis. Business often requires travel to or through the city to the south, and many organizations and a taxing agency, the East Side Levee and Sanitary District, at least are involved in the two separate and contrasting communities.

Despite other factors which are worth noting, a point has been reached where massive state attention and action are necessary.

If conditions are to be substantially upgraded, the ideals of home rule and local responsibility will not be sufficient. State and federal help are essential, and the new Illinois administration is probably in the best position of anyone to see that it happens.

There is, of course, no easy solution—and no simple answer to why conditions have deteriorated so badly and so rapidly.

It is not news that Quad-City officials and citizens consistently have made much higher marks than East St. Louis in virtually all the duties and voluntary efforts that determine the quality of life in a community. Because there are no major differences, "east side" and other blanket terms have long been inadequate to describe Madison and St. Clair counties.

There is understandable resentment here over being "barred with the same brush" through generalizations, and over having to bear the bulk of the cost of drainage projects installed largely in East St. Louis from Quad-City property taxes. "There have been many other un-sound and governmental practices, including East St. Louis city and school spending policies."

"Chickens eventually come home to roost" and we cannot consider the contrasting histories and outlooks as accidental. Quad-Cityans have worked hard to get the attitudes. It more imperative that SIU-SW implement its plans to establish a school to educate and train dentists. Many of the necessary preliminaries already have been carried out, justifying affirmative General Assembly action and funding this year.

But we are still thankful that a relatively high level of civilization action has been maintained here—and willing under present circumstances to "dig a little deeper" in the spirit of neighborliness.

Focus on Spending Control as State Costs, Obligations Increase

(State Chamber of Commerce Tax Department)

In the areas of state spending that have been reviewed—colleges and universities, junior colleges, community colleges, and public assistance and mental health—requests for increased spending have totaled $375 million and $1 billion. This does not begin to cover the full gamut of financial demands.

For instance, Illinois has a problem in financing capital expenditures. All capital expenditures authorized during the last several legislative sessions have been handled through the Illinois Building Authority.

As a result, the state is meeting only amortization costs instead of attempting to meet construction costs from current revenues. The Illinois Building Authority has a large backlog of authorized projects which have not been funded.

Bonds issued by the IBA during the summer of 1968 had an interest rate of 4.999%. The Building Authority currently has a 5% interest limitation. Recently, the bond market has made it difficult to sell IBA bonds.

It is doubtful whether the IBA will continue to be able to finance all state construction costs. With not only higher spending likely for regular operating costs but also capital (Construction) expenditures needing to be shouldered, attention turns to the posing threat to the economy—increased efficiency and the establishment of limits and controls.

Everyone is in favor of avoiding waste, inefficiency or corruption in governmental operation.

But the problem is in identifying wasteful practices and governmental operations is different enough so that there is little application of standard business procedures.

But there are ways of cutting governmental costs. Just as important are recommendations to increase efficiency in the state government were made in a recent Business Management Study Committee Report.

Several of the recommendations have been put into effect by legislative or administrative action. Others are still debated, but the ultimate effect should increase efficiency and prevent some unnecessary spending.

Realizing that this technical and complex area is of great importance, the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce has created a new department on Government Operations to apply the expertise of business leaders to the solution of spending control problems.

Although this new department, based in Springfield, may contribute to better utilization of governmental funds, it is not the full answer to current fiscal problems.

Peter Sellers Enigma—Brilliance Hampered by an Identity Problem

"Peter Sellers: The Mask Behind the Mask," by Peter Evans, Englewood Cliffs, N.J., Prentice-Hall, Inc., 249 pages, $6.95.

Reviewed by John Mercer, chairman of the Department of Printing and Photography of Southern Illinois University.

(Review published in the Daily Egyptian, Department of Journalism, SIU, Carbondale.) Like many another comic who struggled through a childhood and youth beset with problems of self-doubt and uncertainty, Peter Sellers eventually succeeded in becoming an accomplished impersonator, a film star and millionaire.

Unlike other comedians, Sellers has never, according to the author, achieved a real identity of his own.

As a matter of fact most of this book is devoted to the Sellers' personality, or lack of it.

As an acquaintance assumed it up, "The more you know about Peter Sellers, the more you realize that he is a real person there at all."

Evans begins his biography of Sellers with the comedian's heart attack of 1964, describes his childhood as a member of a well-known musical family, and then goes on in a series of overlapping sketches to show how Sellers has become what he is—a difficult but brilliant actor.

When his parents temporarily transferred him to the United States to make a living collecting and selling antiques, Sellers learned to mimic the people with whom he dealt.

As an enlisted man in the Royal Air Force, he often put on a moustache and an officer's uniform and spent the evening at the officers' club.

After world war II, Sellers tried burlesque with success. By impersonating a well-known radio comedian in a telephone call to a radio producer, he landed a job.

State Awaits Family Study Report

(Tri-City and Illinois Bar Associations)

Does a woman have the right to terminate an unwanted pregnancy? Illinois law, the answer to that question is a flat "No."

The law prohibits abortion although it does provide that a physician may be acquitted of the charge if he proves that he performed the operation to save the life of the mother.

The law allows a court to consider a defense claim that was "necessary for the preservation of the woman's life."

However, the defense is available (1) only to a physician "licensed to practice medicine and surgery in all of its branches" and (2) only if the operation was performed "in a licensed hospital or other licensed medical facility."

The penalty for a person convicted of performing an illegal operation is imprisonment of one to ten years. Physicians who may also lose their licenses to practice in Illinois.

The question of legalization as well as its social, medical, moral, legal and theological ramifications has been the subject of many debates, conferences and studies.

One such study has been made by the Family Study Commission of the state legislature.

The commission plans to present its report and recommendations to Illinois state lawmakers in February.

Several countries, including Sweden and Japan, and a handful of states in this country have liberalized such laws. Alabama, California, Colorado, Maryland, Mississippi, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oregon and the District of Columbia now grant permission under circumstances other than those which relate to saving the woman's life.

The American Law Institute's Model Penal Code suggests that it be permitted:

1. Where continuation of pregnancy would seriously impair the woman's mental or physical health.

2. Where the child would be born with serious mental or physical defects.

3. Where the pregnancy resulted from rape, incest or other criminal act.

In 1967, Illinois lawmakers rejected a bill that would have liberalized the state law to permit abortions in cases of rape or rape or when the fetus is deformed, as well as when childbirth would seriously endanger the life of the woman.

Opponents of the change questioned the right to take a life before birth even for the humanitarian motives advanced.

Where continuation of pregnancy would seriously impair the woman's mental or physical health.

Where the child would be born with serious mental or physical defects.

Where the pregnancy resulted from rape, incest or other criminal act.

THOSE DISGUSTED WITH NATION SHOULD LEAVE

To the Editor:

I read with great interest and satisfaction the letter in the Press-Record Forum Jan. 20, "Disasters Must Destroy Education." I would like to add a few thoughts to it.

Regarding the very ones who make most of the trouble in our educational system, including students of all races, someone else besides their own relatives is footing most of the bill for their education.

I think it was Abraham Lincoln who made the famous remark that "a little information is very dangerous."

I will grant there is more than one thing that could be done to improve our country, but let me remind everyone that the American Legion is ready at any time to pay any citizen's transportation to any foreign country that he wishes to go to.

Also, at the present time, there are over 2,000,000 people in other countries who would instantly come to America if only they could.

So if this country is so disastrous to these disasters, then why don't they leave?

I think that if our top policy makers had some of the ideas of Mr. Miller in their heads, our country would be much better off. God give us more men like him.

Dance Re-Set for Sunday

Mothers March Continuing Through next Weekend

Unpleasant weather Sunday and Monday prohibited complete coverage of Granite City by volunteers seeking funds in the annual Mother's March to aid the March of Dimes Foundation and the House of Hope solicitation will continue through this coming weekend, Mrs. Gerald Parmley, Granite City co-chairman announced today.

Additionally, Mrs. Parmley said, the teenage benefit dance, scheduled for last Sunday at the Beneath Society, 2301 Washington avenue, was postponed due to the blizzard-like conditions and has been re-set for Sunday, Feb. 9.

Volunteers from the Madison Junior Service Club also experienced difficulty in reaching homes in all neighborhoods Monday evening, the official date of the Mother's March in that community, according to Mrs. Charles Voloski, Madison March of Dimes general chairman.

"Homes on several streets still remain on our list to be visited by club members and we hope to accomplish this the weekend," she commented.

$480 Madison Collection

Madison volunteer marchers, however, managed to complete most of their calls, Mrs. Voloski noted, adding that a total of $480 was collected from Madison householders in the annual march which took place Sunday afternoon in the Cloverleaf addition during a snowstorm and in other areas on a rainy Monday evening.

Added to the Madison fund raising campaign will be 50-cent donations made at 7:30 p.m. today by those attending a benefit "Sheet Social," to be sponsored by the Junior Service group at the Madison firemen's hall.

March of Dimes canisters placed in Madison business firms will be collected next week and envelopes distributed to Madison school children to be turned in within the next two weeks, adding to the overall contributions, Mrs. Voloski said.

The traditional Crippled Children's Ball, sponsored Saturday for the 31st year by the Venice Crippled Children's Organization at the Venice-Madison Legion Home, was a "huge" success, according to dance organizers.

More than 650 participants donated $1 each to aid the March of Dimes and the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children and had an evening of dancing.

In a special ceremony a $750 check was presented to Claude Echols and Arthur "Cooper" Moore representing the Shriners organization.

Milton Morris, chairman of the Venice March of Dimes campaign, presented a $500 check to Venice Mayor Dr. John E. Lee, who serves as president of the Venice Crippled Children's Organization and who, in turn, presented the amount to Dr. Dean Bridwell, director of the Madison county March of Dimes Foundation.

Venice fire department and the American Legion Post 307 volunteers collected $563 in contributions from passing motorists, at a roadblock set up at Broadway and Klein street, it was reported.

John Beide, 79, Dies;

Lifelong Resident

John Beide, 79, a lifelong Quad-City resident, died about 10 p.m. Monday at St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis, where he was admitted ten hours earlier. He had been in a patient in area nursing homes the past 4½ years.

Born in Mitchell, Mr. Beide had resided in Granite City since 1913, and had lived at 2405 Madison avenue for many years before entering the nursing homes. He was a retired employee of American Steel Foundries and a member of Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

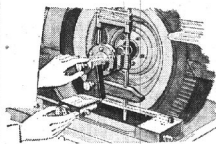

Mr. Beide, who had never married, leaves a brother, Arthur Beide, and two sisters, Mrs. Agnes Zimmer and Mrs. Clara Warden, all of Granite City.

Funeral services were held today. Details are given in the obituary column.

Madison County 2nd In SIU Enrollment

Cook county generates nearly 17% of Southern Illinois University's 31,900 students, according to a study of fall quarter enrollment made by the registrar's office.

Madison county is second with 15%, St. Clair county is third and Jackson county is fourth.

Every one of the state's 102 counties has students at either the Carbondale or Southern Illinois campuses of the university. Jo Daviess and Henderson counties tie for the fewest number, with six each.

The university enrolled 2923 out-of-state students for the fall term and had 570 foreign students in residence.

Spanish Students at SIU-SW to Go to Spain

Spanish language students at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus will have the opportunity this year to study abroad in two Spanish courses to be offered by the university.

Spanish 351, a six-hour course in advanced conversation and composition, and Spanish 451, a four-credit-hour seminar, will be taught by Martha Heard, instructor in the Humanities Division who, in addition to her bachelors' and master's degrees, studied in the University of Madrid where she received a diploma of Hispanic studies.

Miss Heard said students will leave St. Louis June 20 and fly back from London on Aug. 27. They will spend the first week in Spain in Almagro, 80 miles south of Madrid and spend two weeks in Madrid in an orientation to contemporary Spain.

For a more concentrated period of study the students will live in Cuencas, a provincial town between Valencia and Madrid for three weeks. The final week of the program will be paid in Santander, a resort city on the Cantabric Sea where a music and dance festival will be held. Students will meet three to four hours daily four days a week.

Miss June Fowler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woodward Fowler, 2209 Delmar avenue, is among 200 members of the Northern Illinois University Chorus who currently are preparing for the spring semester concert.

The spring concert is scheduled for Wednesday, May 21, in the NIU University Center Ballroom at De Kalb, under the direction of Dr. Elwood Smith, associate professor of music. Chorus members are chosen by audition of all interested students.

Stage Band to Present First Formal Concert

The stage band at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus will give its first formal concert at 8:15 p.m. Monday in Meridian hall of the University Center. Among musicians in the band is Claude Coffman of Granite City, who plays tenor saxophone.

George Mellett, director, said the band furnishes playing experience in the jazz idiom for future teachers and performers and serves as a laboratory ensemble for "budding composers and arrangers."

It is open to students by audition only and is offered for academic credit. The band has appeared in many campus performances but this is the first time it has been responsible for an entire program.

Auto Styling School Planned This Summer

High school pupils with an urge toward automobile design will get first-hand advice and instruction from faculty experts and specialists in the field at an Automotive Styling School June 8-14 at Allerton House, University of Illinois conference center, Urbana.

The school—intended for boys and girls who will be high school juniors or seniors in September—will be conducted by the U. of I. Division of University Extension and the Industrial Design Option of the U. of I. Department of University Extension and the Industrial Design Option of the U. of I. Department of Art at Urbana-Champaign.

Experts from leading automobile manufacturers will make presentations.

The regular faculty will be headed by Prof. Edward J. Zagorski and Prof. William Baron of the Department of Art. Prof. Walter M. Johnson, director, Extension in Visual Arts, and Prof. Norman Johnson, director, Allerton House, both U. of I. Division of University Extension, will be coordinator and supervisor, respectively.

Orientation and training in automotive styling will be stressed. It will include automotive drawing and rendering techniques; three-dimensional modeling; human engineering; aerodynamics; safety; and history of and current trends in automotive styling.

According to Prof. Walter Johnson, the Automotive Styling School is expected to attract pupils whose interests in schooling lie in several different directions—in art, in automotive shop, in industrial design, and so forth.

The educational fee for the week-long school will be $30 per pupil. Meals and lodging will be $75 plus tax; materials, $25. Enrollment will be limited, and applications will be processed in the order received.

Additional information and registration materials can be obtained from Prof. Walter M. Johnson, 127 Fine Arts Building, or from Prof. Norman Johnson, 116 Illinois Hall, both University of Illinois, Champaign, 61820.

Fire Safety in Homes Demonstrated at MHS

A home fire safety demonstration designed to save lives and property from fires was presented to the junior and senior classes of Madison high school last week by Larry Williams, public relations representative for the Country Companies of Bloomington.

Major causes of fires that commonly occur in the home were reviewed for the group by means of visual aids. An electrical panel demonstrated the proper use of a fused safety switch, displaying how an overloaded, over-fused wire burns, plus the total fire problem caused by inadequate, out-dated wiring. Improper handling of flammable liquids was also discussed.

In addition to the home fire demonstration, proper techniques for selecting and handling carbon dioxide, water and dry chemical fire extinguishers were presented.

The home fire safety demonstration was arranged by Bob Brave, agent for the firm. At the conclusion of the program, each student received a check sheet to be used for the fire inspection of his own home.

Weather Appropriate for 1st Arctic Scout Camporee

The cold weekend weather made ideal conditions for the first running of the Arctic Camporee in the Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts of America. A total of 354 scouts in 53 patrols took part in outdoor scouting at Southern Illinois University's Southwestern campus.

The Arctic Camporee, which has been popular as a winter activity in councils north of here, is an activity based on a trip in the Klondike country of Alaska.

Patrols of scouts built sleds similar to the dog sled of the Northland and used them in carrying equipment needed for the many contests which were part of the event.

Cooking, Tracking, Rescue

Outdoor scouting skills were emphasized. Included were compass, basic knot skills, fire-building and cooking, signaling, building and trailing, and ice rescue.

Robert Cheney of Edwardsville, event chairman, said that patrols were given maps and instructions at the headquarters area, and on signal raced to different "Alaskan" sites shown on their maps.

At the finish of the event, all patrols reported to the claims office at the "North Pole" to have their "gold nuggets" counted and determine their final score in the camporee.

Assisting the many volunteer scouts who served as judges for the events were explorers from six explorer posts: Post six, Don Beck, advisor; Post 12, Wilbur Shelton, advisor; 23, Norm Stawar, advisor; 43, Carl Rogers, advisor; 94, Henry Heinrich, advisor; and 96, Ray Gaudette, advisor.

SIU-SW aided the activities and a large number of parents from throughout the council attended the camporee as spectators and provided transportation for the scouts.

City Seeks $10,000 MFT for Frohardt Crosswalk Lights

A resolution seeking $10,000 motor fuel tax funds for installation of electric traffic signals at the Frohardt school crosswalk on Johnson road at Wabash avenue was approved Monday night by Granite City council members. The request is to be forwarded to the state highway department. New bids are to be sought for improvement of sections of Michigan and Troy avenues. Bids had been obtained last year, but the projects were held up pending installation of storm water sewer lines in the area immediately west of Wilson Park.

ICC Aid to be Sought
Repairs to railroad crossings in the city was another topic. Alderman Robertson called up on City Clerk Pendleton to write the Illinois Commerce Commission to send an inspector to Granite City to see first hand conditions at the crossings. He asked that Fourth and Fifth Ward aldermen be notified of the date.

Police asked City Atty. Scroggins to determine ownership of the rail spur that crosses East 23rd street, Lincoln avenue and East 24th street. The city has been endeavoring to have the rails removed.

Four new police cars are to be purchased from B. E. Holit, Inc., local Ford agency, on a bid of $10,763. The city plans to trade in two 1968 patrol cars and two 1962 model cars now used by the city inspectors. The inspectors will be assigned two of the present 1968 police patrol cars.

Other bids were $10,835 by Mathews Chevrolet and $11,330 by Brewer Motor Co.

Light Sale; Gas Line
In miscellaneous business, the council voted to seek bids for sale of portable, battery-operated traffic signal lights that had been used at school crossings, and approved an excavation application from Illinois Power Co. for installation of a two-inch gas line to serve new homes on Harvard avenue at Princeton avenue in Lueders Park Estates subdivision. The work is to be done Feb. 10-14, and the excavations will include one 840 foot long and two four-foot holes.

The council voted to concur with the Zoning Board of Appeals in the case of William L.

RUD Collects 178 Studies On Area Development Needs

One hundred and seventy-eight studies dealing with area developmental needs have been collected by the Regional and Urban Development (RUD) Studies and Services Office at Southern Illinois University-Southeastern campus. All the studies have been made since 1960.

RUD presented a rundown on the studies to members of its citizens advisory committee Monday night. The seven-member committee, made up of citizens from Madison-St. Clair counties, reviewed the analysis as a step toward establishing possible priority needs for the area. The priority list will help determine what to be done by the RUD staff.

In the bibliography presented Monday night there were 24 categories listed, as well as a group of studies listed as "general."

William J. Tudor, director of RUD, pointed out to the citizens group that he was sure other studies on the area are available. He encouraged committee members to report any additional studies for inclusion in the collection.

Listed were studies on area problems, with the principal investigating and sponsoring agency. Many were done by SIU.

Because of the wide variety of subjects the largest grouping was the general category. Thirty-two reports fell in this grouping. Sewerage and sewage disposal was the topic for 17 studies; master plans, 15; and industry and transportation both were topics of 13 studies each.

Next in line were the topics of population and urban renewal, both with eight studies. Seven studies have been reported on housing.

Six reports have been received in the following subject categories: economic development, education, finance and zoning.

Other topics of studies include: air pollution, airports, building programs, central business districts, employment, flood control, land use, local government, planning, recreation, schools, subdivision regulations and water supply.

Ralph Ruffner, vice-president for Area and International Services, said, "The citizens committee was formed by RUD in order that area citizens' views might be better measured by this SIU service agency. By analyzing what has already been accomplished the University can move ahead more rapidly in serving area needs." The committee will continue to meet monthly to advise RUD in its program.

Committee members are Ferd Gower, Belleville; George Gregory, East St. Louis; Earl Jukes, Collinsville; Carl Mathias, Granite City; Raymond Rogers, Edwardsville; Walter Thomas, East St. Louis and Robert Yeates, Alton.

Walter Johnson, and a Commander's Medal to William Lierman, all of Granite City.

Past Commander French also received a plaque of appreciation from the unit presented by Wilmsig.

Other guests introduced were illustrious Past Potentate Bud Shearburn and Divan members Jack Dempsey, Captain of the Guard; and Richard Ervay, Orator, both of Granite City, and their wives.

He enlisted in the Army in April 1968 and received basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, finishing second in his class. Finishing first in the class was Jack McKechan, also of Granite City.

After training Pfc Hoffman stayed on at the fort as an instructor in word usage, spelling and typing. He is now serving as a supply clerk.

Elite Hairdressers Plan National Week

Members of the Elite Hairdressers Association have just returned from Peoria where they attended a kickoff of the state-wide National Beauty Salon Week.

Local cosmetologists will be joining in this program with thousands of colleagues from across the nation declaring the week of Feb. 9 to 15 as National Beauty Salon Week.

During the week, hairdressers throughout the country will donate their services to orphanages, old folks homes, sanatoriums, hospitals and shut-ins. The theme is "Crown Your Beauty with a New Hair Style."

The local hairdressers will close the week with a showing of hair styles and also fashions from Rich's Dress Shop. The show will take place at the American Legion Hall in Venice on Sunday, Feb. 16 at 2 p.m. Tickets are $1 for adults and 50 cents for children and may be obtained from any member of the local Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association.

Mrs. Dorothy Line is president of the local organization and Mrs. Sue Cook is general chairman. She will be assisted by Stanley Coleman, co-chairman.

A portion of the proceeds from the show will go to the Heart Fund.

City Has $999,000 with Four Months to Go

With four months operator remaining in the current fiscal year, Granite City began the 1969 year on Jan. 1 with fund balances totaling $999,000 in all accounts. Of the total, $629,970 was money in transferable accounts that can be used to meet operational costs.

According to a report by City Treasurer E. R. "Pat" Rich, the city ended the month of December with $205,389 in non-transferable general fund levies, $662,978 in transferable general fund levies, $53,498 in general special funds, $20,000 in general unclaimed funds and $27,838 in motor fuel tax funds for arterial street maintenance.

Rich said the transferable general fund account includes $139,273 in the tax commission fund, $233,220 in the working cash fund, $85,443 in the parking meter account, $243,832 in the sales tax fund and a temporary account balance of $1000. Money from these accounts may be transferred into other accounts to pay general fund disbursements.

List Disbursements
The $205,389 balance in the general fund remains out of the current fiscal year which began last May 1 and ends next April 30. Disbursements in the general fund during the eight months of the fiscal year amount to $1,270,931, Rich's report shows.

Income in the general fund during the eight months thus far included balances of $108,020 at the beginning of the fiscal year, $1,152,561 in tax income and other receipts, and $223,709 in transfers to the general fund from other accounts. Necessity of fund transfers to meet January expenditures is indicated in the report which shows eight-month expenditures of $246,961 in the police department and a Dec. 31 balance of only $3153 in the department's account. A transfer to the general government fund from sales tax reserve was approved earlier this month.

Other account disbursements during the eight-month period, with fund balances shown in parenthesis, are:
Water, $13,224 ($11,421); lighting, $24,102 ($7346); pumping station, $1957 ($5700); city hall, $19,159 ($8446); inspection, $19,330 ($7974); interest and judgment, $24,739 ($34,706); humane department, $5573 ($122); contingent, $4812 ($9037); city planning, $5378 ($7089); school crossing guards, $13,000 ($1679); deficit; Illinois Municipal Retirement, $33,978 ($6072);

Schellenger Claims Gain of Cruse Backers

Waldo E. "Ernie" Schellenger, candidate for mayor subject to the Feb. 11 primary, said today that he has been pledged a large block of votes that would have gone to Von Dee Cruse if Cruse had entered the mayoralty campaign as he originally planned.

Cruse announced before the end of the filing period that he would seek the mayoralty nomination, but he did not file nominating petitions.

Schellenger said in a statement: "Von Dee has a great number of loyal supporters in Granite City and I believe that he would have been a rough candidate to beat. I was not content on this block of votes, but since Von Dee did not file I have been assured by a number of his friends that they would join in my campaign to capture the office of mayor on Feb. 11."

A great number of these people have agreed to vote for me and to place 'Schellenger' signs in their front yards and in the rear windows of their cars. I believe that their support greatly enhances my chances of gaining 51% of the votes cast in the primary election.

Schellenger said his workers have been blanketing the city with campaign literature and signs and said his reception has indicated that his pledge to end the fighting in city hall is being accepted by the public. He said he plans to conduct an all-out campaign between now and the primary.

Grand Jury Impaneled, Hears Cases This Week

R. W. Griffith, state's attorney, said that after remaining in session several days this week, the jury will return for one-day-a-week sessions when needed during its term. He said he was uncertain as to the number of criminal cases to be presented.

The oath was administered by Willard V. Portell of Granite City, circuit clerk, and Judge Clark presented instructions before the first session.
